Dear David,

This letter is to let you know how pleased we are with the AiroCide units you installed in our operating rooms. The initial studies that were done when the units were installed showed a 99% improvement in the airborne particles gave us an additional level of confidence that we are providing our patients with the best care available. We have had them in our operating rooms for approximately eighteen months now. They are extremely efficient requiring service only once a year, are very quiet and we feel they have added significantly to the sterile atmosphere needed in an operating room. Thank you for bringing these units to our attention. They are a valuable asset in the continued high quality care we offer our patients.

Sincerely,

William E. Silver, MD
